Introduction to the Centre for Developments in Civil Society
- Zentrum für zivilgesellschaftliche Entwicklung

October 2008

The Centre for Developments in Civil Society is a centre of excellence for topics including voluntary work, good governance and corporate responsibility. We provide independent research, consulting services and qualification to federal and state bodies, local authorities, third sector agencies and other organisations. It is our common goal to support the development of a strong civil society in Germany and Europe.

Services

1. Evaluation
As evaluator the zze adapts to the specific and individual requirements of its clients and their projects' concerns.

2. Social Research
We develop and realise concepts of applied research and use modern instruments of quantitative and qualitative research. We take multiple perspectives into consideration and follow an interdisciplinary approach.

3. Consulting
We consult ministries, local authorities, charities and others in the development and realisation of concepts in order to foster „bürgerschaftliches Engagement“ (voluntary involvement for the benefit of the community).

4. Communication
Events, Conferences, Networking are important forums for developing civil society. Hence the professional planning and moderation of events has its own special place in our service offer portfolio
